NEW WORKPLACE, NEW RELATIONSHIPS

How does the home office impact team dynamics?

In today's workplace, homeworking is an expectation and digital interaction platforms the new normal. But hybrid working can dehumanise relationships and compromise team interaction. It also amplifies the tension of autonomy versus control: how to allow homeworking whilst ensuring productivity? Nor can employers ignore potential equanimity and inclusivity issues arising from different working conditions for blue- and white-collar employees.

As employee satisfaction, engagement and retention lead the talent agenda, are today's frameworks and rules fit for purpose? Join your peers from the HR community for live discussion, authentic connection, and real-world business solutions in the latest of our series: new workplace, new relationships.

INTRODUCTION

JAN PLEYER | CEO | Krofian, Czech Republic

With a wide spectrum of leadership, management and technical skills, Jan Pleyer is also a keen advocate for connecting quality education and employment. His career began in 2002 in technical training in Japan. In 2004, together with its first team, he started mechatronic production for Rheinmetall-Pierburg in CZ. During the next ten years he moved from quality to executive teams, including development of the organization in China. In 2014 and after 6 years in China he joined NIDEC GPM Automotive Pumps (Suzhou) as General Manager. At the same time, as a member of the German headquarters of NIDEC GPM Group he continued to focus on the CEE manufacturing strategy. Returning to production in CZ, he began his cooperation with Mr. Krofian in 2022, and was subsequently appointed CEO of Krofian Czech Republic, a technology company, producer and developer of automation and production technologies. Jan Pleyer lectures at FSE UJEP and is a Member of the Dean's Expert Council.
