NEW WORKPLACE, NEW RELATIONSHIPS

How does the home office impact team dynamics?

In today's workplace, homeworking is an expectation and digital interaction platforms the new normal. But hybrid working can dehumanise relationships and compromise team interaction. It also amplifies the tension of autonomy versus control: how to allow homeworking whilst ensuring productivity? Nor can employers ignore potential equanimity and inclusivity issues arising from different working conditions for blue- and white-collar employees.

As employee satisfaction, engagement and retention lead the talent agenda, are today's frameworks and rules fit for purpose? Join your peers from the HR community for live discussion, authentic connection, and real-world business solutions in the latest of our series: new workplace, new relationships.
